Academic History

IN4.0

AWS Cloud Practitioner

May 2021

I participated in the In4.0 Talent Academy and completed the AWS re/Start syllabus which covers the basics of Cloud Computing, Linux, Networking, Python, HTML & CSS, Databases and personal development sessions. I culminated this course by build a website from scratch and then hosting it as a static website in the cloud using S3 buckets.

Professional Career

DevOps Engineer

JD Sports PLC

Jan 2023 - Current

After taking some time out to focus on a career transition. I am now at the beginning of my journey as a DevOps engineer. I sat the AWS re/start syllabus and started studying CompTia A+, alongside up-skilling in area's relating to DevOps, including Python, Linux, Git, Terraform, and the rest. During intensive, continual, learning in specific area's, I was very fortunate to receive a lot of interest to join some of the biggest names in the tech sector who really valued my drive to constantly learn to get to where I wanted to be. I have since accepted a new role with JD Sports PLC as a DevOps Engineer working within their multichannel team.

Westwood Recruitment

Head of Technology Division

Feb 2022 - Oct 2022

With an extensive understanding of the tech sector, I was brought into Westwood to create a technology division, I was able to use my bank of knowledge and my vast network to bridge the gap between fantastic companies and talented candidates, across all tech sectors.
